Springfield Back Recovers Ball Dropped by Garrity in Third Period.

Springfield defeated Fordham yesterday at Fordham Field by a score of 17 to 0. A costly fumble and an ad-was sent in at right halfback for Meriman, two goals from touchdowns by this total of points the three resulting in the third period, came as the result of a fumble by Jack Garrity, Maroon pringfield's 15 yard line, third down and five yards to go. Garrity then fumbled that at least one of the Fordhamites

Stearns scored again in the tast period, this time on a two yard line played through the left side of the Marcon time. The ball, however, had come within the proximity of the Fordham goal on the ruling of Harry Fisher, referee. Fisher's decision centered on a forward pass from Civiletto to Miller Civiletto, on Fordham's 50 yard line, hurled the ball to Miller, who was about ten yards from the Marcon goal line. Joe Manding. Fordham fullback, tackled Miller, ust after it seemed that he had caught he pass. Fisher, however, contending hat Manning had tackled before Miller sectived the pass, allowed the pass to punt as having hear coverbed.

Oberlin Keeps Slate Clean

by Defeating Wittenberg

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
Springfield, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Oberlin
to-day kept its Ohio conference football record clear by defeating Wittenberg 18 to 6. Oberlin scored in every period.
Wood crashed through center for a touchdown after but five minutes of play. He failed at goal.
In the second period Gould made a drop kick from the 22 yard line and repeated in the next period from the 25 yard line. Oberlin's final score came at the start of the final period. Wood intercepted a pass and ran fifty yards before he was caught. Blair passed over the line to Jones for the touchdown and again the goal was missed.

and again the goal was missed. Wittenberg scored after a series of passes had brought the ball near Oberlin's goal. Heberling went across from the one foot line.

Williams Beats Rensselaer by 27 to 7 in First Half Forward Pass an Important Factor in the Victory. Special Dispatch to The New York Herald Williams For N. Mass., Nov. 4—Williams got the jump on Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute here to-day, winning of the final period. Long passes were resorted to, but they all went astray and Penn wis finally obliged to give up the ball on dewns on the Southerners' 43 yard line. One of the damaging blows to Penn's chances was delivered when Johnny the Dispatch to The New York Herald Off the field early in the third period for slugging a rival player. It cost Penn half the distance to the goal line, or about thirty-nine yards, and put the Alabama boys finally came through with their winning touchdown. Alabama, with its peculiar wide open

with their winning touchdown.

Alabama, with its peculiar wide open by the score of 27 to 7 and getting all spread formations, tried at least twenty its points in the first half. The visitors forward passes in the game, but only a few were successful. At least their method of attack made Penn change its own style of defense and partly accounted for Bartlatt's big run. The lineup:

Score by periods:

that Manning had tackled before Miller received the pass, allowed the pass to count as having been completed on account of interference. Then, when the Fordham team disputed his decision, Fisher penalized the Maroon half the distance to its goal line, or five yards. It really seemed that Fisher had erred, that Manning had made a clean tackle and that Miller had fumbled which would make the bail free. As Myers already had pleked up the bail, Fisher's ruling hit Fordham rather severely. After the game Fisher beat a hasty exit to the dressing room, for the spectators, thoroughly arroused, surged onto the field immediately after the game. All trouble was averted, however, when the Fordham football players held the crowd back.

which was the better." While running to his dressing room

"You know which is best." Meaning, of course, that all race goers bethoroughbred race deemed it useless to journey to the track knowing they would be unable-to get idmlssion.

As it was, the g nering was too large. The thousands were packed logether shoulder to shoulder and it was next to impossible to get about. They overran the stands, lawns and clubhouse ond overflowed into the infield. Fairly half of those present were unable to make a wager or get within a hundred feet of the mutual machines.

Officials of the track estimated that l sections of the country. Gov. Ritchie of Maryland was there. So was practically every official in the State, Washington poured out a host of statesmen, financiers and society folk. New York was well represented by many of other States and Canada. It is easy to describe the two stake races.

Eleven coits and fillies started in each. The start of each was good.

In the first division event John E. Madden's filly, Best Love, was the first to show in front. Followed closely by Blossom Time, she darted toward the first turn a length in front. Blossom Time was a similar distance shead of first turn a length in front. Biossom Time was a similar distance ahead of Robert L. Gerry's Cyclops. The remainder of the field, led by Donges, were in a cluster and tight quarters. With free sailing ahead Best Love led the way around the bend. Biossom Time was second and running smoothly and Donges was third, free and clean. The others were interfering with each other.

Down the backstretch the Madden filly was still in command and running easily, but she wasn't fighting for her head as was Blossom Time, who was at her heels. Donges also was racing smoothly and strong in third position.

Rounding the bend lest Love showed signs of faltering. That was the spot for her to lengthen out on her field. I Fator, who had the mount on her, gave her a kick with his high and free rein at the same instant. She responded, at the same instant. She responded, but only for what seemed like an instant. Then she began to falter. As she began to slow up Johnson turned Biossom Time loose. Her leap forward was astounding. She bounded to the front in a few strides and entered the temperate of the tempera

"She was at the point of death early in the spring," he said, "and was dangerously ill after her victory in the New York Futurity. When in training there never was a time she couldn't break a record and if she had been able to fulfill one-half of her engagements she would have won more than $200,000."

ERASMUS HALL 45, BOYS 8. hopes of winning the Kentucky Derby with her.

The owners of trainers of all the entrants lauded the generosity of the Maryland Jockey Club for hanging up the two $40,000 purses, and after each stake had been decided the trainers of the eight money winning horses said they would gladly start their charges in the special for the Gold Cup next week.

The other stake on the program was a steeplechase. It was the Autumn Green Springs Valley at two miles and a quarter. It was won by Joseph E. Widener's Comique, with J. S. Cosden's Hallaville second, and Charles K. Harrison's Sea Tale, third.

Mrs. Payne Whitney made the trip.

Mrs. Payne Whitney made the trip from New York to see the Futurity and incidentally see her aged steeplechaser. Soumangha, perform in the cross-country event. But Soumangha was not doing well and Vincent Powers, her young trainer, advised against starting. This tendered to disappoint the popular New York sportswoman, but her disappointment was short lived for in the fourth race, the Monumental Handlean. fourth race, the Monumental Handicap, at six furlongs, she saw her three-year-old colt, Galantman, beat a big field of sprinters in hollow style.
